HOUSE SPEEDS
BILL TO TRIM
INCOME TAXESFOUR BILLION CUT IS APPROVED BY REPUBLICANS

BY FRANCIS M. LEMAY

Washington, March 21 (AP)—Republicans shaved their $4,000,000 income tax cut through the house ways and means committee today, 16 to 9 and Speaker Martin (R-Mich.) said that house "definitely will pass" it next week.

Martin called upon the Republicans to rally behind the bill, issuing a statement that:

"The Republicans have clearly recognized for a long time the dangers of excessive taxation and the absolute necessity for tax cuts. We promised the nation lower taxes—and we shall keep faith with the American people."

Wage Earners Favored

"These tax cuts are entirely practicable while at the same time payments are made on the debt. People in the lower income brackets must have relief from crushing taxation and unbearable high prices. Government economies and more and more production constitute the answer to both problems."

Notwithstanding Martin's statement, Rep. Engel (R-Mich.), who has termed the legislation "a rich man's tax bill," said he will carry to the house floor his fight against it.

The bill would give a 30 percent tax cut to persons with taxable income (gross income minus personal exemptions and deductions) of $1,000 or less, and a 20 percent cut to persons with taxable income above $1,395. For those in between, the cut would range from a flat $50 to $50 a year.

(Persons with a taxable income of $1,001 would get the $57 reduction, those with $1,395 would get $53.)

Democrats Fight Measure

Rep. Dingell (D-Mich.), a committee member, told reporters the Democrats "shelled the Republicans."

Employees Strike

Threatens Tieup

In Stock Exchange

New York, March 21 (AP)—The AFL United Financial Employees today served notice it would cancel on April 21 contracts with the New York Stock Exchange and Curb Exchange, paving the way for a strike which, the union says, would cripple the world's busiest financial mart.

The 30-day notices, presented to Stock Exchange President Emil Schram and Curb Exchange President Francis Adams Truslow, stemmed from a union dispute with A. M. Kidder and Co., a brokerage house.

The union said the notices were a preliminary move to a walkout of 5,000 members in the lower Manhattan financial district.

The union, which has won a labor board election at the Kidder company, has demanded a 25 percent wage boost, declared the average union employee there earned less than $40 a week.

Recluse Found Dead
In His Rat-Infested
5th Avenue Mansion

BY JOE HALL

New York, March 21 (AP)—Discovery of the body of an emaciated wispy-mustached old man, sitting on the floor of his rat-infested Fifth Avenue mansion, wrote an end today to the legend of one of the two fabulous Collyer brothers.

The other has mysteriously disappeared.

Peering through a second-story window from a ladder, police found the body of blind, crippled Homer Collyer, 75, holder of A. M. and LL. D. degrees from Columbia University and once an admiralty lawyer.

Doctors said that Homer, who was clad in a crumbling gray bathrobe, might have been dead from 10 hours to a week. The body was taken to a morgue for an autopsy, to be performed probably tomorrow.

For several hours, police searched the labyrinthine, debris-cramped mansion for the other brother, Langley, 71, who had taken

NERVOUS BANDIT
TRIO CAPTUREDRevolver Falls Apart, Bank Cash Saved At
New Holland, O.

New Holland, O., March 21 (AP)—Three nervous gunmen tried to hold up the First National Bank here today, but one of their revolvers fell apart, they lost their nerve, the bank's cash was saved and the trio was captured.

Sullen and uncommunicative, they were turned over to Sheriff William Radcliff for removal to the Circleville, O., jail.

The trio, taken from an automobile which they had rented in Springfield, O., gave their names as Charles Malesy, 23; Donald Neff, 17, and Carson Rice, 18, all of that city, the sheriff said.

The bank's staff described the holdup as a movie comedy affair executed by "nervous, flustered and amateurish kids," they related.

While one waited in an automobile, two entered the bank, brandished nickel-plated revolvers and announced: "This is a stick-up."

As George Kirk, president of the bank, and three employees raised their hands, the cylinder fell from the revolver in the shaking hand of one gunman.

Two of the bank employees chuckled, the gunman reddened and one retrieved the cylinder and reassembled his pistol.

Cashier John T. Dick dashed outside and President Kirk ducked under a counter.

Flustered the three youths fled. They were captured by Police Chief Gorman Clark and Officer William Keefe of London, 25 miles away.

Chief Clerk said the three confessed they attempted the robbery. No charges were filed immediately.

Paraguayan Rebel
Planes Bomb Base
North Of Asuncion

Asuncion, Paraguay, March 21 (AP)—Planes flown by members of Paraguay's insurgent military force, bombed the government base at San Pedro, 95 miles north of Asuncion, today, but caused no casualties or damage, the government announced tonight.

Instead of aerial bombs, the announcement said, the rebel planes dropped large artillery shells and failed to make a hit on any installation of importance.

The "ineffective" bombing raid, which gave the government its first knowledge that the revolutionists had acquired planes, indicated the insurgents lacked adequate munitions.

Ford Slashes Car
Prices In Canada

Windsor, Ont., March 21 (AP)—The Ford Motor Co., which two months ago cut prices on its Ford cars in the United States, today slashed retail delivered prices on its Ford, Monarch and Mercury passenger cars and trucks produced and sold in Canada.

Today's announcement, by Douglas B. Grieg, president of the Ford Motor Co. of Canada, Ltd., reduces prices, effective tomorrow morning, $35 to all Canadian buyers. The reduction announced last Jan. 15, by Henry Ford II, president of the Ford Motor Co. for buyers in the United States, ranged from $15 to $50.

SENATE VOTES TO ERASE ALL
PORTAL SUITSNEARLY 6 BILLION
IN WAGE CLAIMS
INVOLVED

Washington, March 21 (AP)—Legislation wiping out nearly all pending and future portal pay suits was approved by the Senate today.

The vote was 64 to 24. The action, taken over strong Democratic protests, knocks the legal props from under nearly $6,000,000,000 of existing suits.

The bill now goes back to the House for concurrence in Senate changes. If the House rejects the Senate version it will go to a Senate-House conference committee.

The Senate bill:

1. Outlaws all pending portal suits, except those covered by wage contracts or industry custom.

2. Bars all future portal pay suits for activities before and after the regular workday. It leaves claims for activities during the workday—defined as the period of the workers' "principal activity"—to court settlement or collective bargaining.

3. Sets up a two-year time limit, after the work was done, for filing any qualified suits.

Senator Lucas (D-Ill.) predicted to the Senate just before the vote that President Truman will veto the measure.

"I make the prophecy," Lucas said, "that the president, when he gets hold of this bill with all its loopholes, will send it back with a veto."

Before the final vote, the Senate rejected 53 to 35 a proposal by Democrats to substitute a milder bill for the Republican-sponsored measure.

Inland Will Ship
Steel By Water
To Milwaukee, Wis.

Detroit, March 21 (AP)—The Inland Steel company will inaugurate steel transportation by lake Tuesday between Indiana Harbor, Ind., and Milwaukee, an Interstate Commerce Commission hearing was told today.

R. R. Flynn, company traffic manager, testified that the water movement will cost 9.185 cents per hundred pounds compared with a low of 11 cents by rail.

The 11 cent rate, applied to carloads of 80,000 pounds or more, is among those at issue in an action pressed by Great Lakes Steel corporation of Detroit against 58 railroads.

The corporation contends Chicago area steel and iron freight rates to points in Illinois, Indiana, and portions of Wisconsin, Iowa and Missouri are lower than "relative rates" charged to those points from Detroit.

The complainant corporation also has contended Chicago rail freight rates have been reduced below the cost of water shipment, normally the cheaper.

NEW YORK SPY
RING REVEALEDProminent Persons Are Involved With Russian
Secret Police

Washington, March 21 (AP)—The House committee on un-American activities unfolded today a world-ranging story that a Soviet spy and fake passport ring was centered around Leon Josephson of New York.

Liston M. Oaks and Fred Beal, both of New York and both admitted former Communists, testified under oath that Josephson is a member of the Russian secret police.

Figuring in it in one way or another were the names of:

1. Ruth Bryan Rohde, daughter of the late William Jennings Bryan, former member of Congress and former U. S. ambassador to Denmark.

Russell said it was reported to him that Josephson claimed she entertained him "rather royally" in Copenhagen and that they became "close friends" later in this country.

2. Rep. Marcantonio (AL-N. Y.). Russell said Josephson was working for the International Labor Defense when he made trips to Europe in 1929, 1930 and 1931, that the ILD is a "Communist front" organization, that Vito Marcantonio was its president.

3. George Mink. Oak said Mink also was a member of the Russian secret police, offered him an assignment in this passport racket in Barcelona, Spain, in 1937.

Soviet Girls Can't

Moscow, March 21 (AP)—The Soviet government has banned any future marriages between Russian citizens and foreigners, it was declared today.

No reason was given. During the war several scores of Soviet girls married foreigners, particularly Americans and Britishers.

Extensions Of Rent
And Sugar Controls
Studied In Congress

Washington, March 21 (AP)—Legislation extending rent controls through Feb. 29, 1948 without a general increase won unanimous approval of a Senate banking sub-committee today, but the question was still far from a final decision.

The Senate Republican policy committee failed to reach agreement whether rent and sugar controls should be continued, changed or dropped. The controversy will be referred to a meeting of all Senate Republicans tomorrow.

Senator Hawkes (R-N. J.) argued in the policy committee for a blanket 10 per cent rent increase if controls are continued, but it was this provision that killed an earlier bill.

NEW PAY RAISE
SOUGHT BY UAWUnion Makes Demand On General Motors For 23½-Cent Boost

Louisville, Ky., March 21 (AP)—The CIO-United Auto Workers today made formal demand on General Motors for a second post-war wage increase.

The request for a boost of 23½ cents an hour was delivered by proxy to GM officials in Detroit, soon after rival factions of the union failed in a second effort to patch up their differences in a "harmony meeting" here.

President Walter P. Reuther and Secretary-Treasurer George E. Addes headed rival groups at the last "harmony meeting." Vice President R. J. Thomas, leader of the anti-Reuther faction, was absent from the meeting.

GM granted the UAW a wage boost of 18½ cents an hour in March of last year, the first post-war wage concession, bringing the wage average up to around $1.31 to $1.33 an hour.

In Detroit, General Motors had no comment immediately on the new UAW demands, which included a five-point program covering wages, social security, retirement provisions, the work week and adjustments in vacation clauses.

Labor Conciliator
Called Communist,
Salary Is Cut Off

Washington, March 21 (AP)—The House appropriations committee voted today to take Edgar L. Warren, a high labor department official, off the government payroll on the grounds that he had belonged to "Communist-inspired" organizations.

Five of Warren's ex-associates from the war labor board promptly replied that "He is a loyal and devoted citizen."

The vehicle for the proposed ouster is a $1,685,586 bill to finance the labor department and the federal security agency for the year beginning July 1.

In submitting it, the committee wrote in a provision to deny any funds to the office of the director of the conciliation service, which is Warren's job. The provision likewise affects the offices of some 106 other executives and employees of the service.

Boy Friend, 21, and Girl Charged With Murder Of Parents

Santa Ana, Calif., March 21 (AP)—Murder accusations were signed tonight against Louise Overell, 17, and her fiance, George Gollum, 21, charging them with the slaying of her wealthy socialite parents, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Overell, aboard their yacht in nearby Newport harbor Saturday night.

Police Chief R. R. Hodgkinson of Newport Beach signed the accusations and said they would be presented tomorrow morning to the justice court of Judge Howard C. Cameron for the issuance of formal murder charges.

The accusations were drawn as attorneys were reportedly preparing to file a writ, seeking the release of the young couple, who were arrested late Wednesday.

Sheriff James Musick said the couple would be arraigned tomorrow morning immediately after the formal murder complaints are issued.

The decision to file the charges came after it was disclosed by Sheriff's Captain Thomas McGoff that a ball pen hammer had been discovered in a toilet bowl about three feet from Overell's body.

McGoff had earlier expressed belief that the Overells were bludgeoned to death before their power cruiser was blown up by a crude alarm clock explosive device.

Earlier District Attorney James L. Davis announced he would take the case before the grand jury next Thursday.

Miss Overell, accompanied by Sheriff Musick and a matron, attended the funeral today at Newport for her slain parents.

Sheriff Musick said the daughter cried a little during the graveside service but that on the way up and back in a sheriff's automobile she laughed and joked.

DETROIT SCHOOL
STRIKE AVOIDEDCity Council Approves
Pay Raises For
7500 Teachers

Detroit, March 21 (AP)—A strike in Detroit's public school system apparently was averted today as the city council approved pay increases of $225 annually for the 7,500 teachers.

Coupled with earlier adjustments the total pay increases for the next school year will range up to $1,056 annually and will mean 40 to 50 per cent boosts for teachers in lower pay brackets.

Heads of the AFL Detroit Federation of Teachers, which had threatened a strike, said they expected the membership to accept the new terms.

The city council made the new pay raise possible by restoring $2,515,000 of the $3,156,000 which Mayor Edward J. Jeffries had slashed from the board of education's budget.

The new pay scale provides a starting salary of $2,775 a year for teachers with a bachelor's degree and $2,900 for those with a master's degree. New maximums are $4,375 and $4,600 respectively.

Raises ranging from $620 to $831, covering adjustments for "inequities," cost-of-living and so-called "step" increases, previously had been approved. The money restored to the school budget will provide an additional $225 annually for each teacher.

The AFL Detroit Federation of Teachers, which claims to represent a majority of school employees, has not voted on the new offer but early reaction indicated there would be no strike.

Referring to the council action as a compromise, Mrs. Helen Moore, executive secretary of the DFT, said "there is not enough difference to close the schools."

Carpenter's Ladder
Saves Port Huron
Boy, 3, From River

Port Huron, Mich., March 21 (AP)—A carpenter with a handy ladder aided police in rescuing a three-year-old boy who fell through the ice on the Black river today.

Little Leonard Falk, wandering from home, toddled out on the river ice. It broke beneath him, hurling him into the water.

A neighbor, woman called police, Sate Daniel J. O'Leary and Frank Lavin responded along with Charles Lang, 23, a carpenter.

Using his ladder for support on the ice, Lang worked his way out on the ice until he reached Leonard. He pulled the boy to safety and Leonard was revived with artificial respiration.

NO ONE PARTY

SETUP TO HANDLE
PEACE TERMS

BY WES GALLAGHER

Moscow, March 21 (AP)—Secretary of State Marshall asked the council of foreign ministers today to authorize the Germans to establish immediately a provisional government as the first step toward creating a federalized Germany.

Marshall's request was included in a proposed three-point plan of procedure for setting up a German government which he said should be started "at once so there will be properly constituted German authorities" to carry out the terms of the peace settlement being drafted here.

Alfred A. Communism. British Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin earlier had submitted a similar proposal but in much greater detail, and warned Russia that Britain would not stand for any "one party" system in Germany.

Although not mentioning Communism by name, Bevin declared that British "do not believe Germany should merely change from the Nazi party to another party, nor Nazi ideology to some other ideology."

The inference was clear, since the Russians in the eastern zone of Germany insisted on, and created, a one party system called the Social Unity party by a forced merger of the Communists and Socialists.

Bevin's stand took special significance in view of French Foreign Minister Georges Bidault's disclosure that Prime Minister Stalin in a recent interview had criticized the French stand for a centralized and decentralized Germany and urged a strong central administration.

The British foreign secretary said that his country felt that the creation of a one party system in Germany along with a decentralized government which any one party could seize was incompatible with British security.

Opposition Plans Ready

Bevin proposed that the ultimate German central government should be composed of a president and two chambers, one representing the nation as a whole and other separate states. The chamber representing the nation would be popularly elected. The chamber representing the states would be elected on the basis of equal representation from each state.

The British plan provides also for the establishment of a supreme court to safeguard the constitution.

Just how far the British and American ideas will go in agreeing with Soviet and French ideas for a German government was not clear at once, since Molotov and Bidault will introduce their plans tomorrow. However, the French position was reported to go more toward federalization than the American or British plans.

The Russians have been talking about a tightly centralized German government.

Lake Success, March 21 (AP)—Contributions of one day's pay from every working man and woman in the world will be sought by the United Nations to keep an estimated 20 million children from slow starvation.

The voluntary contributions will be collected on a special "Save the Children" day to be designated by U. N. Secretary-General Trygve Lie.

LUNCHEON FOR JACKSON TODAY

Women Of Jackson For Judge Committee To Dine This Noon

A noon luncheon program today to be attended by women workers of the "Jackson for Judge" campaign committee in Escanaba will be held at 12:30 o'clock in St. Joseph Parish hall, it was announced yesterday by R. A. O'Neill, city chairman of the committee.

All women workers who are participating in the Jackson for judge campaign in Escanaba are expected to attend, the chairman said.

The program will open with a salute to the flag, followed by a vocal selection, "The Lord's Prayer", by Frank Hirm, accompanied by Mrs. Hirm. Invocation will be delivered by Fr. Francis. The luncheon will be served by the ladies of St. Joseph's Altar Society, Mrs. John Meier, chairman.

Atty. J. Clyde McGonagle will be toastmaster, and Atty. Denis McGinn will report on the progress of the Jackson for Judge campaign in other counties. Rev. Gustav Lund, pastor of Bethany Lutheran church, will speak on the interest of the church in the non-partisan judicial election.

Atty. Glenn W. Jackson of Gladstone, circuit judge nominee in this district, will speak briefly. Other speakers will include Mrs. Jackson, who will express appreciation for the work being done by the women of the committee; and Atty. Wheaton Strom, of Escanaba.

The program will close with benediction by Rev. James G. Ward, pastor of St. Stephen's Episcopal church, and a vocal number by Mr. Hirm.

Personnel Changed At Army Station

T-Sgt. Spencer Mathison has resumed his duties at the Army Recruiting station here following a leave of absence during which time he studied four weeks at Adjutant-General's school, Carlisle Barracks, Carlisle, Pa.

Mathison, who was formerly stationed in Kenosha, Wis., is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Matthew D. Mathison, 1116 North 16th street, Gladstone.

He has had 49 months of duty in Alaska and wears the pre-Pearl Harbor ribbon as well as the American theater, Asiatic-Pacific and good conduct ribbons.

Edward Seymour, who was promoted to sergeant from corporal recently, has been transferred from the recruiting station here to Sault Ste. Marie. Following his transfer the Bark River soldier was ordered to Adjutant-General's school in Carlisle, Pa. After four weeks of recruiting training he will return to his post at Sault Ste. Marie.

Menominee—Officials of Ahmed Temple, Nobles of the Mystic Shrine, Marquette, have been notified of bequests contained in the will of Gustavus A. Blesch, retired Menominee banker who died last Friday and left $50,000 to the Michigan State Masonic home, Alma, and $50,000 to the Shriners' hospitals for Crippled Children.

Petition for admitting the will of Blesch, who was a member of Ahmed Temple, was filed in the probate court at Menominee this week and Judge Katherine Siles Loughton set April 14 for admitting it to probate. The estate is estimated to be worth more than $1,000,000.

Mrs. Blesch, the former Bertha Grant Walton, whom Mr. Blesch married in 1903, is left the bulk of the estate under terms of the will, which Mr. Blesch prepared in his own handwriting and which covered less than two pages of legal papers. Mrs. Blesch receives an outright bequest of $200,000 and the balance of the estate after four specific bequests and taxes and expenses are deducted. These four are:

The $50,000 bequest to the Masonic home at Alma, to be used as the home's board of control deems best.

The $50,000 bequest to the Shriners hospitals (there are 19 in various parts of the U. S. and Canada) to be used by the board of control for the best interests of the hospitals.

A bequest of $10,000 to Mr. Blesch's 92-year-old sister, Mrs. Clara Blesch Monroe, Green Bay.

A bequest of $5,000 to A. J. Klumb, cashier of the First National bank, Menominee, in payment for assisting Mrs. Blesch with the management of the estate.

New CG Rules Now Exempt Many Boats From Registration

New regulations issued by the U. S. Coast Guard now exempt from registration under the numbering act many of the boats formerly required to be registered. Under the new regulation boats which do not exceed 16 feet in length, using outboard motors which are not permanently secured to the boats, are not required to be numbered.

Persons owning boats in this category, which were registered under the old regulations, and who desire cancellation of their certificates to the Commanding, 9th Coast Guard District, Motorboat section, 1119 Keith Building, Cleveland 15, Ohio, for cancellation of their registrations.

Present owners of such boats 16 feet and under in length, upon sale, abandonment, or destruction of their boats will be required to forfeit their registration numbers; the numbers shall be removed from the boats and the certificates of award of numbers forwarded to the District Coast Guard Commander in Cleveland, Ohio.

In view of the change in regulations the boats now required to be numbered are all boats equipped with permanently fixed engines and all boats over 16 feet in length equipped with detachable engines. Copies of the Coast Guard Navigation and Vessel Inspection Circular No. 77, which contains the new regulations, may

Certified Potato Growers Sign Up For 1947 Program

Delta county potato growers who plan to raise certified seed in 1947 should sign up for certification now, E. A. Wenner, county agricultural agent, said yesterday. Although planting does not start until May, it is necessary to sign up for certification now so that a pre-planting inspection can be made.

Six growers have already applied for certification so far, and

Wenner said he hoped the total would be about 40 for the year—the highest number of any county in the state.

The six growers who have applied for certification are Hilding Olson of Bark River Rt. 2; Fulgenz Falkies and Son of Cornell; William Bradway, Cornell; Adolph Goncheski of Bark River Rt. 1; Henry Verbrigghe of St. Nicholas and Octave Carrigan of Cornell.

SCHEDULE 4-H DAY APRIL 12

About 600 Delta County Boys And Girls To Attend Program

About 600 Delta county boys and girls, all members of 4-H Clubs in county communities, will come to Escanaba April 12 for the annual Achievement Day program, it was announced yesterday by M. N. Nyquist, Delta county club agent.

Enrollment on 4-H club winter projects in Delta county now numbers about 650—the largest number in the history of the 4-H program in the county.

The spring Achievement Day program will be held in the gymnasium and auditorium of the Escanaba senior high school, Nyquist said. The members will exhibit the work they have completed during the winter, largely in the field of handicraft and clothing projects. The volume of exhibits is expected to be large.

Ben Westrate and Mrs. Edith Avise, assistant state club leaders, will judge the exhibits on Friday, April 11, with the assistants of county 4-H leaders.

The Saturday program will start in the morning, and will include a style-dress show for the girls, and an educational moving picture on tractor maintenance for the boys. Awards will be presented the members by Mrs. Avise and Mr. Westrate. Following a luncheon downtown the boys and girls will attend a matinee movie. The public is invited to view the exhibits, which will be displayed in the Escanaba senior high school gymnasium.

District Scouters At Hiawathaland Council Meeting

The March meeting of the Hiawathaland Council, Boy Scouts of America, was held Thursday evening at Niagara, Wis., with thirty one in attendance. Those attending from the Red Buck District were: C. E. Hawkins and James T. Jones of Gladstone; Clarence Zerbel, James Jackson, Carl Nelson and S. N. Bradford of Escanaba, and David Phalen of Noma.

Prior to the regular meeting of the executive board a meeting of the Council camping committee was held. At this meeting definite dates for the 1947 camping season were set with established fees for all camps. Red Buck Scout camp will open its 1947 season for four weeks beginning July 6.

Report of the council commissioner was given by Commissioner Zerbel, followed by the treasurer's report by Perry Hatch of Marquette. A report of the recent council review was made by the Region 7 Executive Robert Gregg.

Mention was made of the Region annual meeting to be held at Fon du Lac, Wis., April 23, with approximately 15 representatives to attend from the Hiawathaland Council.

A training course in Cubbing is planned to be held at Lake Geneva, Wis., June 6-7-8 for all Cub leaders desiring to attend. The Council is to have six representatives, one from each district of the council, and a member of the council staff.

Capt. Robertson, Marquette, of the Council organization and extension committee, spoke briefly on the problems of organization and offered his services wherever possible. Communities of the Council desiring such services are asked to contact the office of the Boy Scouts at Marquette.

The next meeting of the Hiawathaland Council will be held in Sault Ste. Marie, May 3. This is the same date set for the Council first aid contest.

Pageant Committee—Chairman John A. Lemmer of the pageant committee of the Hiawathaland Festival has called a meeting of the group to be held at the Escanaba Chamber of Commerce office at 3 o'clock this afternoon.

U. C. T. To Meet—The United Commercial Travelers will hold their annual election of officers at North Star hall Saturday evening, March 29. All members are urged to attend.

Apply For License—Applications for marriage licenses have been made at the office of the county clerk by Kenneth Herbert Gehrke and Louise McKinnon of Theinsville, Wis.; Gabriel Grodeski and Mrs. Harriet Clinch of Escanaba; John R. Mattson and Dorothy M. Colegrove of Escanaba.

Handicraft Class To Close April 1

The handicraft class, conducted by Mrs. LaChapelle and sponsored by the city recreation department will close April 1, it has been announced by George Grenholm, recreation director.

Grenholm said the handicraft class generally continues until after Easter but is being closed earlier this season as an economy measure and because of decreased participation in the program.

Poles Are Received For Light System

Ishpeming—The eight 60-foot steel poles which will be used as standards for the lighting of the football field at the Playgrounds were received and have been hauled to the grounds.

With delivery of the poles, all major items of equipment needed for installation of the lighting system are on hand. For some time the light bulbs, reflectors, cable and miscellaneous other items have been stored in the basement of the fire hall.

Births

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Sperry of Rock are the parents of a daughter, Norma Elaine, born at St. Francis hospital, March 18.

A daughter, Bonnie Jean, was born at St. Francis hospital March 18 to Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Lancour, 608 North 19th street.

EHS FORENSICS SERIES ENDED

Speech Winners Friday Are Valerie Spade, Harold Sundelius

For dramatic declamation in the local speech forensics being conducted at Escanaba high school, Valerie Spade was awarded first place yesterday from a group of four competitors. "America's Dark Shadow" won Harold Sundelius first place for original oratory. Two were competing with him.

Jean Gamble took second place in dramatic interpretation with "Yellow Wallpaper"; Gloria Barron second place in original oratory for her delivery of "United We Stand."

Judges in yesterday's contest were Charles Follo, Roma Irons, Mary Vaughan, Bernadette Brennan, and Margaret Wade. All are faculty members.

The students were coached in the various phases of speech by Bertrand Henne of the school staff.

The above named students and those who were declared Thursday will compete in the district finals.

Ann Shepeck and Lawrence Stein were placed first and second respectively in oratorical declamation and will represent the school in this field of speech at the district meet. Those chosen in extemporaneous speaking are, first, David Locke, and second James Moran.

More Fast Time

PRESUMABLY in deference to those who are seeking a uniform time schedule for all cities of the Upper Peninsula, the Escanaba city council has delayed acting upon the local time problem. Final decision apparently will be deferred until after the meeting at Crystal Falls March 26, when the matter of a uniform time schedule for the Upper Peninsula will be discussed.

Escanaba voters approved by a vote of 1555 to 1105 at an advisory election in February to adopt fast time throughout the year. Significantly the proposition carried in every one of the city's eight precincts. The city council proposed this advisory election and it may be presumed that the council will be influenced by public sentiment on the fast time proposition when the ultimate decision is reached regarding the time issue.

The way the situation stands now, if the council took no action to change the time schedule for Escanaba, we would move to fast time, or daylight savings time, the last Sunday in April and would revert to slow time again the last Sunday in September.

The spring election will be held April 7 and the state attorney general has ruled that eastern standard time, or fast time, must be the prevailing time schedule for the opening and closing the polls throughout the state, including those areas now on slow time.

Under the circumstances, it is logical to move to fast time here the last Sunday in March to avoid confusion in the April 7 election.

Insofar as the Crystal Falls meeting is concerned, some benefit may come of it for uniform fast time in the summer months but it very improbable that a uniform time schedule for all of the Upper Peninsula and for the entire 12 months of the year can be agreed upon.

In the final analysis, local option will prevail and the sentiment in Escanaba, at least, is for more fast time, not less.

Planting for the Future

THE Consolidated Water Power & Paper Company of Wisconsin Rapids has started a unique reforestation program in the section of Wisconsin from which it draws most of its pulpwood supply.

The paper company has offered free five-year-old white spruce trees to landowners of four surrounding counties for planting this spring. No order for fewer than 250 or more than 1,000 trees will be accepted from the individual landowner. The spruce will come from the company's own tree nursery.

Here is the best proof of the worth of tree-planting. The Consolidated Water Power & Paper Company is a well-managed and successful business enterprise. The management does not embark upon a project of this kind unless it can see a satisfactory return on its investment.

Some folks have been prone to pooh-pooh reforestation programs. This is probably due to some prejudice against government intervention into the field of lumbering, long considered the special domain of private industry. But the Consolidated Water Power & Paper Company apparently thinks differently. It is planting trees so that it will be assured of a supply of pulpwood 25 to 50 years hence. It is thinking about staying in business permanently.

We have gotten a good start in reforestation in the Upper Peninsula with the tree planting projects launched by the Civilian Conservation Corps back in the 30s. It is to be hoped that federal, state and local governments, along with wood using industries, will revive this highly worthwhile program on an equal or much greater scale in the not distant future.

Cancer the Killer

CANCER is as old as recorded history. It is not catching—and it can be cured in the majority of cases when treated early.

Organization of a Delta county unit of the American Cancer Society is now under way, and this year and in the years to come will undoubtedly have a beneficial effect in reducing the toll of cancer the killer—but a killer that can be defeated by early diagnosis and treatment.

There is one death from cancer in Michigan for every hour and fifteen minutes, and the disease is the second leading cause of death in the state. Such loss of life is twice tragic when it is known that in the majority of cases cure is possible if treatment is started early.

A constructive program of education is needed to debunk the public mind of much of its misinformation about cancer.

Cancer is a disorderly growth of cells. It is not a catching disease, and there is no more stigma to having a cancerous growth than to having a wart.

Beware of advertised cancer "cures," and know that the disease cannot be cured by faith healing.

There is no scientific evidence that cancer is hereditary in human beings. While

It occurs quite regularly in certain families, there are comparatively few families without a history of cancer in some member.

Cancer is curable when treated early. It becomes serious only when neglected. Pain is a late symptom in most forms of cancer, and early cancer can be discovered only by examination.

Encourage Exploration

REP. ALVIN E. RICHARDS of Marquette has introduced a bill in the state legislature which would exempt unexploited ore deposits from taxation. The legislation is designed to encourage exploration work by private mining companies in the state, particularly in the Upper Peninsula, where the bulk of metallic ore deposits are to be found.

In the past, mining companies have been reluctant to do more exploratory work than was actually needed to maintain their current operations. If they made extensive geological surveys they would be figuratively cutting their own throats because they would be only increasing the tax levy on discovered reserves.

There has been considerable agitation in recent years for appropriations so that the state geologist's department could make a more extensive search for new ore deposits. Rep. Richards, who has spent a lifetime in the iron county, apparently seeks a more direct approach to the problem. He would encourage the private mining companies to expand their exploration programs. After all, they are well equipped and financed to do this type of work and own virtually all the land in the state that bears signs of containing mineral deposits.

Improving Election Service

ACTING to improve the service in the tabulation of votes in the spring election, the Escanaba city council has voted to employ eight additional clerks to assist, after the closing of the polls, with the vote counting chore.

It is a commendable move and one which should help considerably not only to speed the vote tabulations but also to reduce errors. In taking this action, the Escanaba council to some extent, at least, followed the lead of the Gladstone council which voted to employ entirely new boards to tabulate the votes.

The Escanaba council decided against bringing in entirely new crews to tabulate the votes but voted to supplement the existing boards with one additional tabulator for each precinct. For the most success with this system, it is imperative that the council, which has the responsibility for the selection of election board personnel, makes these selections carefully and with due regard for the long hours that the election job entails. It is not a chore that can be adequately and efficiently conducted by people who are aged or in poor health.

'BEST YEARS' IS THE BEST

Two of the oldest truths in the art of film-making are affirmed by the latest Academy awards, nine of which went to the picture, "The Best Years of Our Lives," and its makers. These are: That a good story is indispensable to a great film, and that the rest is largely a director's game. Neither is much of a secret; both are repeatedly demonstrated. "Mrs. Miniver" blanketed its field in Academy competition for the same reasons.

The great human problem of this last year or two has been the return of some 10,000,000 young Americans to civilian living. There was a great picture in their tribulations and triumphs. It was available to anyone with imagination and understanding and the technical gifts needed to transcribe it. In that sense, "The Best Years of Our Lives" was a "got-up" picture. But so have been many enduring classics in all the arts.

That a handless ex-paratrooper, Harold Russell, who had never acted before, could win the supporting player award establishes quite clearly the director's part in picture-making. The player thinks that he didn't "act," but of course he did, it being left to the director to conceal it—which is the highest achievement in art. To sustain the same naturalness throughout a picture twice the usual length is a miracle in itself.

When to this is added a story very close to countless hearts, it is not to be wondered that "Best Years" scores a small slam—nine out of 10 Oscars—in a year which found the industry itself in a period of reversion and uncertainty, and lacking generally in clear purpose and artistic distinction.

Take My Word For It

A LITTLE LESSON IN CAREFUL SPEECH

Today's article is intended especially for public speakers, such as broadcasters, ministers, lawyers, lecturers, actors, and teachers and students of speech. Its purpose is to recommend care in pronouncing words which end in -o and -ow, such as, tobacco, tomorrow.

Many of us obscure the -o or -ow, as "uh-BAK-uh, tuh-MOR-uh," and it isn't a very serious fault in informal or careless speech. But in all forms of public speaking the obscuring of the final syllable should be avoided—the -o and -ow should be given the full, rounded sound of "oh."

I have never been able to explain satisfactorily why it is that we always say "oh" at the end of some words, and "uh" at the end of others.

For example, these are invariably "oh" words: banjo, buffalo, bungalow, calico, canoe, cargo, ditto, domino, flamingo, helleo, indigo, jello, lotto, motto, presto. These are usually "uh" words: arrow, borrow, fellow, minnow, pillow, potato, tor-

World Events Analyzed

BY MARQUIS CHILDS

Washington—Behind closed doors the members of the senate committee on labor are arguing day after day about what kind of labor bill is to be finally reported to the senate. Some committee members are a little cynical about this long-drawn-out process because they feel certain what the end result will be.

Before they settled down to arguing about the kind of law to be approved, the committee debated the question of an expert consultant who should help draft the legislation. Sen. Joseph H. Ball of Minnesota, with the backing of Chairman Robert A. Taft, had proposed a former New Deal lawyer, Gerard Reilly.

For four years Reilly was solicitor in the department of labor under Secretary Frances Perkins. In 1941, President Roosevelt made him a member of the National Labor Relations Board. In later years Reilly dissented from the majority of the board and for his dissents he was savagely attacked by the unions, particularly by the CIO.

When Reilly's name was proposed to the Senate Labor committee, Sen. Wayne Morse of Oregon raised a mild objection. He said it was his understanding that Reilly was the author of Senate Bill 360, which bears Ball's name and which makes drastic changes in the Wagner Labor Relations Act. Morse argued that, since Reilly was the proponent of one of the measures to be considered, it was not proper to select him as an impartial consultant.

"That is not correct," Ball replied. "The ideas in 360 are mine. I had Mr. Reilly's help in drafting that bill."

There was some further discussion. Democrats on the committee supported Reilly. At last a vote was taken. Three Republicans voted against Reilly. They were Morse, Ives of New York and Aiken of Vermont.

Some days earlier, in a lengthy speech on the senate floor, Morse had analyzed the labor bills to be considered by the committee. He spoke out of his years of experience as a teacher of law and his practical experience as a member of the War Labor Board. That speech, set in the framework of Morse's liberal philosophy, was on a very high level.

A considerable part of it was devoted to pointing out the dangers which Morse sees in Bill 360. He called it "an attempt to repeal the Wagner Act by emasculation." The point that Morse made repeatedly, as he went over sections of the bill, was that it would substitute government power for free collective bargaining. The Ball bill, according to Morse, would destroy the right to strike.

Toward the close of his speech, Morse introduced his own amendments to the Wagner Act. These would outlaw jurisdictional strikes and secondary boycotts. They would expand the National Labor Relations Board from three to seven members to take care of the greatly increased burden of cases. Employers would be guaranteed their constitutional right to freedom of speech. And the NLRB would be permitted to go into federal court to enforce either employers or employees where the board was convinced that nothing else would do.

Anything beyond this will put labor relations in a government strait-jacket, as Morse sees it. He has considerable support for his point of view in the committee. But those who will support what they feel is the maximum legislation necessary to correct present abuses have no illusions.

Even if they get a 7 to 6 committee vote for the mild as opposed to the drastic proposal, they know the senate will ignore this recommendation. The votes of Republicans, plus Southern Democrats, will make Senate Bill 360, or something very much like it, the law of the land.

The house is likely to be even more hard-boiled. As of today, the labor legislation coming out of the 80th Congress promises to change the pattern of industrial life in America. Whether it will produce more strikes, more strife, more court cases, as Morse and the Liberals believe, or whether it will create industrial peace, the nation will soon learn.

In the face of this almost certain eventuality, organized labor is behaving with the same ostrich-like stupidity that was characterized the labor movement in recent years. Morse is being berated for his mild proposals. Labor leaders accuse him of favoring compulsory arbitration. By agreeing to the mild proposals, there is just a chance that labor might avert the fate of government control. But such a straight move is apparently beyond the grasp of the present leaders of labor.

pedo, tomato, widow, willow, window, yellow. In careful speech, the words should end in "oh."

There are two kinds of correct speech. The first is usually called "colloquial," which is another way of saying "conversational." It is not slovenly speech, although it does permit pronunciations and expressions, yes, and even a moderate amount of slang, that should be avoided in formal usage. In short, colloquial or conversational speech is intimate, unpretentious, and comfortable—it wears sports clothes.

Careful speech is also called formal or serious speech. It is appropriate to the pulpit, to the platform, to the classroom, to any thoughtful radio discussion. It is speech that wears its Sunday best. Now this does not imply that the first is less correct than the second. Either is correct when it is appropriate to the occasion.

There is this caution, however: colloquial speech should not be so informal as to approach the careless or slovenly. Likewise, formal speech should not be swollen, pedantic, or snobbish. The first extreme is called overalls, the second is a stuffed shirt.

By The Bugler

A LITTLE MIRACLE—The boy was about seven years old. He was a bright-eyed little chap with an infectious happy grin, and he sat beside his teacher in special rooms in the Escanaba Junior high school learning to say the word "bird."

You see, the boy was deaf—had been deaf since birth. Because he could not hear he had never learned to speak. His parents believed that the boy was unable to speak and they were as well as hear.

Then he was enrolled in the oral-deaf class in Escanaba and within a matter of days he had learned to speak a few words. His parents were overjoyed, for they were assured by his teacher that their son would be able to speak, and could learn lip reading so he would be able to converse with others. And the change in the boy was equally miraculous. He bubbled with the new sounds that he had learned to make—sounds that he had never heard from those around him. He loved school, and he loved his teacher.

BOY AND A WORD—With John Lemmer, superintendent of schools, we visited the special rooms in the high school, including the oral deaf room. It was there we met the boy who was learning to say "bird."

Teacher and pupil sat looking into a mirror at their own and at each other's faces.

"We're learning to say 'bird,'" the teacher explained. "This morning he saw the bird on my hat and he thinks it's wonderful. I'm teaching him how to say it."

She smiled at the boy and put her arm around him. He smiled back at her confidently.

They turned facing the mirror again. She placed the back of the boy's hand underneath her chin and said "bird." Her lips formed the word slowly, distinctly. Then she had the boy put the back of his hand under his own chin while he tried to say the word, watching his lips in the mirror, imitating the motions of her lips as best he could.

"B-i-r-d," he said.

They smiled at each other in the mirror.

"Bird," she said distinctly. With a feather held lightly in her fingers she repeated the "d" sound, showing the boy how the feather would move when held in front of the mouth when the "d" was sounded forcefully. She held the feather a few inches from his mouth.

"B-i-r-r-r," he said, but the feather did not move. She brought the feather back to her own face and showed him again. Still staring intently at his reflection, the boy tried again.

"B-i-r-r-r-d!"

Teacher put her arms around the boy and hugged him, and he smiled at her radiantly, pleased with his success. "Bird," he said. And again, "Bird."

INTO THE PAST

Ten Years Ago

Several Escanaba business men will leave this morning for Green Bay where they will attend a conference of the Wholesale Credit Association of Northern Michigan and Wisconsin, which will be held in the Hotel Northland.

Doran Roach, 33-year-old negro odd jobs man, was arraigned tonight on a charge of murder in the slaying of wealthy Mrs. Celia Kadech, 60, who was found clubbed and stabbed to death near her battered and unconscious daughter, Essie, 26.

The Good-will tour of the Escanaba Smelt Jamboree, led by Queen Rose Ann Nadolski, will invade Milwaukee today to publicize the festivities in connection with the annual spawning runs of the silvery fish.

The Catholic church has renewed in Germany her bitter conflict with modern-day governments for the right to control religious instruction of her youth.

Twenty Years Ago
An acreage tax on state tax homestead and swamp lands, the levy to be paid by the state for the benefit of counties, townships and school districts, was proposed in a bill introduced in the house today by Representative Nelson G. Farrier of Presque Isle.

Upper Peninsula crops experts are at work arranging farm exhibits in the "Crops Special Train" which left Marquette Wednesday morning on a month's tour of agricultural districts in the Upper Peninsula. The train will be in Escanaba Thursday evening March 31 at 7 o'clock.

The Italian interpretation of the controversy with Yugoslavia over Albania is that Premier Mussolini has again triumphed in a highly romantic, but intensively dangerous diplomatic duel between Rome and Paris in which the prize was the predominance of influence in the Balkans.

Mrs. James Frost, well known and popular in Escanaba musical circles, is now in a recital tour which will include appearances in some of the larger cities of the west and the Pacific coast.

for the children than we're doing now."

BUY EASTER SEALS—The incident of the boy and his new word happened two years ago. The other day we met Jim Degnan of Escanaba, chairman of the Easter Seal Sale committee for the county.

"If you write something in your column about the value of the work being done with Easter Seal funds it might help bring in more contributions," he said.

A large part of the money contributed in the annual sale of Easter Seals stays in the county to help finance the program in the Junior high school orthopedic rooms. The funds go to help some crippled child walk again, to conserve the sight of the child with faulty vision, and to help that little boy learn to speak.

WORK NEVER DONE—Some work is never done.

The crippled and afflicted child cannot be ignored nor can anyone but the most heartless turn away from an appeal to aid them. The help given them now will pay big profits in the years ahead, for it will assist them in becoming persons trained to meet life with courage, although handicapped.

If you have forgotten to return your contribution to the Easter Seal Sale committee, or perhaps have mislaid the appeal letter you received—there is still time and opportunity to help.

Q. Will the Veterans Administration furnish a wheel chair for use by a disabled World War II veteran?

A. Yes, if he has a service-connected disability requiring the use of a wheel chair, or if a wheel chair will be required for use at home upon his discharge from a period of hospital treatment or domiciliary care.

Q. How is the term "total disability" as comprehended by the National Service Life Insurance Act defined?

A. It is defined as any impairment of mind or body which continuously renders it impossible for the insured to follow any substantially gainful occupation.

Q. Did the pilgrims build log cabins?

A. No. The log cabin is of Scandinavian origin and first appeared in the American colonies in the settlements of the Swedes and the Finns along the shores of the Delaware River. The Pilgrims made cottages of wattle and daub, with steep thatched roofs.

Q. Is much of our business done through chain stores and mail order houses?

A. In 1946, sales through these two types of businesses totaled $21,000,000,000. This was an increase of 25 per cent over the 1945 total. More than one-fifth of the nation's total retail business is transacted in this way.

Q. Who holds the world's backstroke record?

A. Adolf Kiefer. He has won approximately 2,000 races and was beaten only twice in his twelve years of amateur competition.

Q. One hears quite a bit about Stalin, Molotov and other Russians, but who is the president of the Soviet Union?

A. Nikolai Shvernik. He succeeded Mikhail Kalinin who died last year.

Q. Do the people of cold countries wear more furs than other people?

A. No. More fur coats and fur articles are worn in the U. S. than in any other country.

Q. What did the Selective Service classification II-B (F) indicate?

A. It meant that the registrant was rejected for military service but was engaged in defense or essential industry.

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

BY DREW PEARSON

Washington—Here is how the most important question before Congress—labor legislation—now stacks up.

Barring highjinks by John L. Lewis or other impulsive labor leaders, there will be no really tough crack-down on labor at this session of Congress.

Present prospects are that Congress will outlaw neither the closed shop nor industry-wide collective bargaining on union contracts. These are the No. 1 and No. 2 objectives of congressional labor foes, led by lanky Senator Joe Ball of Minnesota.

Also, the other bugbear of labor—compulsory arbitration—is out the window.

Instead, Republican leaders have now decided to slip through a mildly restrictive measure which they believe will be acceptable to organized labor and still meet GOP campaign promises. The bill finally enacted will:

1. Ban jurisdictional strikes and "secondary boycotts," a step President Truman himself has advocated;
2. Compel all labor organizations to make their financial records available to members and to file an annual statement of assets with the secretary of labor;
3. Make labor unions and employers equally liable for contract violations.

Inside fact is that, even with the help of conservative Democrats, GOP leaders doubt that they could muster the necessary two-thirds majority in the Senate and House to override a certain presidential veto of any bill outlawing the closed shop.

—GOP IN LABOR HOLE—

Also, GOP leaders know that Democratic strategy will be to fight out labor legislation on party lines, thereby forcing Republicans to take the rap in the 1948 campaign for whatever labor legislation Congress passes now.

In fact, Senate Democratic leaders are so determined to make this a party-line fight that they have privately decided to take no active part in drafting labor legislation in the Senate Labor committee. Instead, they will reserve their big guns—major amendments—for a showdown fight on the floor.

This Democratic strategy is why Senate Labor Chairman Bob Taft will lean over backward in drafting a bill in committee, so as to leave the Democratic opposition no major targets to shoot at.

Taft and House Speaker Joe Martin had hoped for a vote on a new labor bill in both houses before the Easter recess. Also on taxes. Inside reason for this was to give Republicans something to show the home folks during the planned 10-day Easter recess, because tax reduction and strike curbs were two major GOP talking points during the last campaign.

However, while Senate GOP leaders are still hopeful of enacting tax legislation before the holidays, they are prepared to postpone final action on labor until immediately after the Easter recess.

—SENATE CHECKER CHAMPION—

It was a few minutes before the senate convened at 12 noon and Carl Morrison, a new page recently appointed by GOP Senator Owen Brewster of Maine, was playing checkers with another pageboy in the senate cloakroom.

"Not! No! No!" Suddenly cautioned a voice at his shoulder. "Move out your king. That's the best play."

Young Morrison looked at a chunky, gray-haired man.

"If you'll pardon me, sir, I've been playing checkers for years and do not like Kibitzing," said the pageboy, politely. "If you're that good, I'd be delighted to take you on."

The challenge was accepted and in short order the older man had scored a blitz. It was only when he was beaten that the page discovered he had been playing Democratic Senator Tom Stewart of Tennessee.

—MAKING DEMOCRACY WORK—

Making democracy work department: The Virginia Press Association is bringing two French journalists to the USA for a three-month tour to get acquainted with the United States. Charles Sans and Girard D'Orgeville are the working newsmen who will make the trip. Credit Miss Daphne Dailey, editor of the Bowling Green Caroline Progress, with the idea.

The American Field Service, having done a great job as volunteer ambulance drivers during the war, has taken on a peace-time job—sending American students to study abroad with a reciprocal arrangement for foreign students to study in the USA.

Upon the death of Harold D. Smith, ex-budget director and a great public servant, his family asked that friends not send flowers, but donate the money to cancer research. There are now 180,000 deaths annually in the USA from cancer, yet its origin and cure are still unknown. The Bronx Veterans hospital is building a swimming pool dedicated to the four chaplains—Protestant, Jewish, Catholic—who gave their lives to soldiers on the sinking transport Dorchester and went down praying that there might be more good-will among men. The four chaplains were Father John P. Washington of Newark, N. J., Rabbi Alexander Goode of York, Pa., Reverend L. Fox of Cambridge, Vt., and Reverend Clark V. Poling of Schenectady, N. Y.

Relieve misery, as most mothers do. Rub the throat, chest and back with time-tested

Before you invest in the last word in laundries...

Here's every invention to make washday easy... including a speedy Gas clothes dryer and especially! — a new do-everything washing machine. But before you invest in one of these wonder washers — ask yourself this: "Do I have the kind of hot water supply it must have to work properly?" Remember — the average automatic washer needs about 40 gallons of 140° water in 80 minutes to do two loads of fluffy, snow-white laundry. The new automatic Gas water-heaters are designed specifically to meet such needs. They replace the hot water supply almost as fast as it is drawn off. Cost amazingly little to run. Eliminate old-fashioned fuss and inconvenience. In fact, no matter how you wash your clothes, an automatic Gas water-heater is a necessity in every modern household. Why not order one in the right size for your family — today?

BANKERS WILL HOLD MEETING

Conference To Be Held
In Minneapolis
April 26

More than 1,000 bank executives expected to attend the Federal Reserve Bank Conference of Ninth District Bankers at Hotel Nicolet in Minneapolis, April 26, will hear three speakers and a panel discussion during the business part of the annual gathering.

Following registration and a luncheon, the bankers will listen first to Dr. Austin A. Dowell, professor of agricultural economics, University of Minnesota, whose topic will be "The Outlook for Livestock Prices."

"How Research Helps the Farmer" will be told by Vernon S. Peterson, Midwest manager of the extension division, E. I. du Pont de Nemours and Company.

Following the panel discussion, Leonard W. Brockington, K. C., of the Canadian bar and former wartime adviser to Canada's governor general, will make the closing address.

John N. Peyton, president of the Federal Reserve bank, will preside over the meeting.

Each bank in the district—Minnesota, North Dakota, South Dakota, Montana, northwestern Wisconsin, and Upper Michigan—has been invited to send one representative to the conference, the second to be staged since the end of the war and seventh since the conferences were initiated in 1938.

In the evening, following a reception and a dinner, the visiting bankers will be guests at the Ice Follies of 1947.

Decision On Fast Time Is Deferred

Iron Mountain—Decision on adoption of daylight saving time by Iron Mountain will hinge upon the Wisconsin vote on the question. It was decided by the city council last night after Norway and Kingsford officials attending the session, expressed approval of Central Standard time.

Wisconsin, currently on "slow" time, will test-vote April 1 on the privilege of city and town choice of a time system. Results will be reviewed by the state legislature. A vote by Wisconsin communities on adoption of fast or slow time would then be taken.

Ford Motor Will Give Water Plant

Iron Mountain—A proposal by the Ford Motor company to deed to the village of Kingsford the water filtration plant located at the corner of Woodward and North boulevard and to sell to the village the fire truck and equipment stationed at the company's plant was contained in a letter read at the Kingsford commission meeting by Mr. J. J. Cummings.

The letter, signed by M. E. Willmott, Ford lands department, asked prompt consideration of the proposal and declared the company, which has been furnishing both filtered water and fire protection to the village, desires that Kingsford take over both services not later than June 1.

The commission, which has objected to the company's rate for supplying filtered water and has shown little enthusiasm for establishing its own fire department, placed the letter on file for discussion at a special meeting to be called by President Ludwig Evenston.

It is estimated that the United States would be producing 16,000,000 fewer pounds of beef a year had it not been for a bovine tuberculosis campaign started 25 years ago.

Propose Hospital As War Memorial

Iron Mountain—Suggestion that the proposed new Dickinson county hospital be designated as a "Dickinson County Memorial Hospital," in tribute to county men who gave their lives in World War II has gained momentum in the district and has already been tentatively approved by officers of the three principal veterans' groups—American Legion, Veterans of Foreign Wars and the Disabled American Veterans—according to Don Smith, secretary of the Iron Mountain-Kingsford chamber of commerce, which is now in charge of placing the hospital bond-proposal before the voters on April 7.

The proposal, on April 7, calls for an increase of five mills on the assessed valuation of Dickinson county to raise $300,000 for construction of the hospital. To this amount would be added a $150,000 reserve now held by the board of general hospital here, and Federal aid in the amount of one-third of the total estimated cost of the hospital.

CAGE QUINTET TO BE HONORED

Lions Club Plans Annual Dinner, Probably On April 10

The Gladstone Lions club will honor members of this year's Gladstone high school basketball team at their next regular meeting, probably on Thursday, April 10, it was announced yesterday.

At that time letters will be awarded to players designated by Coach Eldon Keil and the lettermen will name a captain-elect for next year's quintet.

Named to receive letters are Capt. Tom Kee, Ron Anderson, Cliff Gillis, Alcide Valind, Giles Richards, Victor Pearson, Douglas Madden, Richard Williamson, Norman Marmilick and LeRoy Young.

Kee, Anderson, Richards, Pearson, Williamson, Marmilick and Young are seniors and will be lost to the squad through graduation.

Gillis, Valind and Madden are juniors and with Dave LeGault, another junior, who finished on the first squad when Marmilick was forced out by illness, form a basis around which to build in 1947-48.

Gladstone won five games while losing nine during the past season but from the standpoint of fans the double win over Escanaba gave the season a successful tinge.

Perkins Boy, Paul Gerou, Passes Away

Paul Joseph Gerou, 9, Route 1, Brampton, passed away Thursday at the Children's Clinic at St. Luke's hospital, Marquette, following a 2½ months illness with uremia.

The child was born in Perkins April 29, 1937 and attended the Perkins school.

Surviving are the parents, Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Gerou; four brothers and one sister, Gerald 12, Mary Catherine 5, Steven 4, James 3 and Donald 8 months. There are also the grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. John B. Gerou of Perkins and Mr. and Mrs. John Masta of Sault Ste. Marie, Mich.

The body was removed to the Kelley Funeral Home where it will rest in state beginning Sunday noon. Funeral services are to be conducted at St. Joseph's Catholic church in Perkins Monday morning at 9 o'clock with the Rev. Fr. Alphons Coignard in charge. Burial will be in the Perkins cemetery.

State Police Find Stolen Panel Truck

A panel truck owned by Arthur Carlson, Marquette, and used by the Bell Telephone company, which was stolen from Hermansville Wednesday night was recovered near Gould City by Michigan State Police. The vehicle had been ditched by the thief.

Tickets for traffic violations were issued to four more motorists by state troopers in continuation of their campaign to make driving conditions safer.

Joe DeGroot, Northland, was given a summons for driving a vehicle without 1947 registration plates and failure to have an operator's license in possession. Ticketed for similar offenses was Lawrence Elie of Arnold.

Louis Berthiaume of Escanaba was found driving a load of logs which had no wrapping chains securing them and Francis Russell of Rapid River was steering a vehicle which had defective brakes.

TWO SPEAKERS AT LIONS CLUB

Dudley Jewell, Harris
Miller Heard On Thursday

Dudley Jewell, secretary of the Escanaba Chamber of Commerce, and Harris Miller, technician for the Michigan State Planning commission, were speakers at a regular meeting of the Gladstone Lions club Thursday evening.

The former explained the purpose of Chambers of Commerce and advantages that ordinarily accrue to communities where active chambers are formed and continued over a period of time.

Miller is in the Upper Peninsula to explain and help get under way industrial surveys which are being undertaken in 21 communities.

The communities are Gladstone, Marquette, Newberry, Trout Lake, Ontonagon, Ironwood, Wakefield, Escanaba, Menominee, Cedarville, Michiganamme, Even, Munising, Rapid River, Manistique, Stephenson, Chassell, Bagara, Lake Linden, Houghton and Bergland.

Miller was brought into the Upper Peninsula through the efforts of the U. P. Development Bureau. He will confer with Chambers of Commerce and other organizations of cities and towns which evince an interest in the bureau's plan for community industrial surveys.

Information on what each community has to offer industry in the way of raw material, labor, transportation and sites must be compiled so that a community has something definite to offer industries which may be looking for places to locate.

ten vespers, 4 p. m. Cathedral film, "A Woman to Remember." Glen E. L. Kjellberg, pastor.

ROAD SQUABBLE END IN SIGHT

Supervisors To Conduct
Formal Hearing Today
At 10 O'clock

Munising—The formal hearing into the case of complaints and criticisms against the Alger county road commission by a citizens' committee headed by H. L. Dunklee will come before the county board of supervisors today at the court house in Munising. The case is scheduled for 10:00 a. m.

The hearing today is being held for the purpose of deciding whether the board of county road commissioners should or should not be removed from office. Testimony of the citizens' committee, the board of supervisors' highways and bridges committee and the road commissioners will be duly recorded and acted upon by the board of supervisors sitting as "the judge" during the hearing.

At one of the preliminary hearings held Tuesday, March 11, at which time written reports concerning the case were presented to the board, it was deemed necessary by the supervisors to give the road commissioners their day in court before final action was taken in the case. As a result, a motion to hold the formal hearing, made by Lowell Gibson and seconded by Supervisor Oulette, was quickly passed.

At that time the supervisors also appointed three members of their highways and bridges committee to prepare charges against the commissioners. These charges will be presented at the hearing today. After all testimony has been presented today, the board of supervisors will vote on the issue and if a decision is handed down ousting the road commission, the commissioners could appeal and bring the matter to circuit court. Attorney R. E. O'Brien, legal advisor to the board, stated yesterday.

K. Bakum Reports 34 Renew Chamber Memberships Here

Munising—Thirty-four renewals of membership in the Munising Chamber of Commerce were reported by Drive Chairman Kenneth Bakum as having been received during the month.

Present renewals, Mr. Bakum said, were the result of "reminder" letters sent out during February. A second "reminder" letter will be sent out and a group of volunteer committeemen will also go into operation to solicit the remaining memberships, he stated.

Those who have volunteered to solicit renewals are: Vern Floria, J. A. Wood, Edmund J. Erickson and Benjamin Hankin.

Paid members in the Chamber of Commerce for 1947, up to Wednesday, March 19, are: Alger County Hardware, A. & P. store, Atkinson Motor Sales, Atlas Plywood corporation, Baij's tavern, Alex Belfry, Brown Derby tavern, P. Russo-American Discussion Theme At PTA Meeting

"The dynamic and disturbing element in Russo-American affairs is the expansion of Russia today. This imperialism seems obvious to the majority of us—but is mysterious to some. Russia's fear is resistance to this expansion which is aided and abetted by Communist leaders in other countries. There is always the possibility of war between the United States and Russia but I do not think Russia is ready for war—domestically or economically. They realize there is no defense against the atomic bomb and until they discover its secret they are in no position to fight or wage a war. We have told the world—through the Truman doctrine—that we will play a bolder part in world affairs and we have warned Russia that we will be opposed to any Russian expansion," said Professor Ebersole in a stimulating address on Russo-American affairs to members and guests of the Lakeside-Central P. T. A. at their regular meeting Thursday evening in the high school auditorium. This was the annual Father's Night program and was attended by the honored parents.

During the musical portion of the program, Earl Cousineau, talented member of the local high school faculty, sang three Irish solos: "Rose of Tralee," "Danny Boy" and "When Irish Eyes Are Smiling," and for an encore sang "Drink To Me Only With Thine Eyes." Miss LaVerne Trevarrow, home economics teacher, accompanied the soloist at the piano.

During the social hour, lunch was served by the committee: Ted Monroe, chairman, Albert Ackerman, George Morton and Donald McLain. The table was attractive-

SENIORS WILL PRESENT PLAY

Will Be Given At High School Auditorium
Tuesday Night

Previously postponed because of the illness of some of the members of the cast, Manistique high school seniors will present their play, "Every Family Has One," next Tuesday evening at the high school auditorium.

The theme of the play is built around the experiences of the Reardon family, a typically American group whose eccentricities, if hilarious, are only normal. The play is well suited for presentation by young people and under the direction of Mrs. William Norton has been making good headway.

The cast of the play is as follows:
Penelope Reardon, Florence Ruliet.

Laura Reardon, Arlene Cufley.

Mrs. James Parker, Janet Hughes.

Essie, Betty Heinz.

Nana Reardon, Jerry Whitcomb.

Reginald Reardon, Pat Shaw.

Marcia Reardon, Peggy Bauers.

Jamie Reardon, Ray Norberg.

Sherwin Parker, Bill Eck.

Lily Reardon, Jean Hambeau.

Todd Galloway, Allan Schuster.

Vet Bonus Applications Available Next Friday

Recent enactment into law of the state soldiers' bonus has placed the Schoolcraft County Office of Veteran Affairs on the alert in the matter of taking care of the local veterans who make their bonus applications here.

Leonard Multaupt, veterans counselor, in a phone conversation with Lansing headquarters Friday, was told that the necessary application blanks will be available about Friday of next week.

In anticipation of the rush that is soon to be on when the application blanks are available, the vet counselor is calling attention to a very important matter which, if attended to now, will facilitate action later on.

First and foremost is the most important fact that veterans making application must have their discharge papers, or a certified copy of one with them when they apply.

Secondly, veterans should study their discharge papers before-hand and check up the number of days domestic and the number of days foreign service they are credited with. Inasmuch as the bonus payments vary from $15 per month for overseas service to $10 for domestic service, it is very important that this matter be clear when applications are made. Multaupt states that many discharge papers—particularly those who were in naval service—have no notations of foreign or domestic service on them. In those cases, it behooves the veteran to call at the veteran counselor's office at the earliest possible moment and have him communicate with the proper authorities so that these important facts are in black and white when the applications are made.

Contrary to current rumors, no application blanks are available anywhere at present.

Birthday Party

Jan LeDuc entertained 27 girls and boys on Monday afternoon, St. Patrick's Day, at a theater and supper party celebrating his seventh birthday anniversary.

The children went to a 4 o'clock matinee and then to the private dining room of Denney's restaurant where they were served at 5 o'clock supper. Green hats with green feathers and balloons were favors and placecards were shamrocks tied to candy and nut baskets. Two birthday cakes, each with large a shamrock in the center decorated the table, one of them lighted by Jan's seven candles, and the other turning on a musical platter which played "Happy Birthday to You."

Ten of the children's mothers also attended the party.

Patty's Party

Patty Vezina, who was nine years old on March 16, celebrated her birthday with a St. Patrick's Day party on Monday afternoon at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Paul V. Vezina, Oak street.

Following a number of games, a five-thirty supper was served. A lighted birthday cake and green and white tapers decorated the table, and each guest received a favor.

Attending the party were: Suzanne Heinz, Beverly Gentz, Gail LeBrasseur, Sherry McNally, Ruth Ann Guidebeck, Janet Fagan, Betty McNamara and Frances Vezina.

Legion Party For Saturday Is Postponed

The party sponsored by the local post of the American Legion, which was scheduled to be held Saturday evening, has been postponed. This action was taken by the committee in deference to the suggestion that public gatherings be dispensed with while the epidemic of colds is still prevailing.

Another party will be held as soon as the situation has improved.

NORWAY MEETS GWINN TONIGHT

Greenland - Mass Plays Vulcan In Class D Finals

Crystal Falls and Brimley were bumped out of the Class C Upper Peninsula basketball tournament at Iron Mountain last night, when the Norway Vikings took the Iron County Trojans' measure 58 to 33, and Gwinn defeated Brimley, 54 to 47.

That leaves Norway and Gwinn to face each other tonight at 8:45 in the Iron Mountain high school gym for the Class C championship of the Upper Peninsula. At 7:30 tonight, Vulcan plays Greenland-Mass for the Class D championship.

Carrying the best record of any ball club in the U. P., Gwinn nevertheless had to dig in their heels and bend their knees to pull that 7 point victory away from Brimley. Gwinn was leading by only 1 point at the first quarter, trailing by 1 point at the half. But from the third period on, led by Trombley, who scored 26 points last night, it was Gwinn's game.

Norway-Crystal Falls

Norway took Crystal Falls in their tournament game for the third time this season, though play in the first quarter looked as though the Chambers-coached Trojans might well pull an upset. But in the second quarter, the Crystalites fell apart at the seams. Steadying in the third quarter, the Trojans played solid if uninspired ball to hold the Vikings even until a last quarter spurt gave Norway that 58-33 victory.

Outcome Uncertain

The experts have long been taking side glances at the highly probable eventuality that Gwinn and Norway would be meeting in the Class C finals at Iron Mountain tonight, but they have been most reluctant to forecast, since Gwinn having met no Menominee Range teams this season, there was little chance for comparisons.

Gwinn has suffered only one defeat all season, and that a bolt-

Regardless of whether Perkins captures the Upper Peninsula Class E basketball championship tonight at Marquette or not, you can hand it to the Perkins lads for their courageous, uphill victory over the defending titleholders, Alpha, in the opening round Thursday night. Everyone had figured Alpha as a shoo-in for their second successive title—that is, everyone but Perkins. Having disposed of the Alpha team, Perkins still must get by another sharpshooting quintet, Berglund, to capture the first U. P. basketball championship in the history of the Perkins high school.

If the Perkins eagers snowed any weakness against Alpha Thursday, it was inconsistency in cashing in their foul shots. Perkins scored only five points on 16 free throws, a percentage of .312.

from-the-blue upset by John D. Pierce of Marquette. The Norway Vikings won the Class C championship last year.

In the Class D finals, the Greenland-Mass quintet is a slight favorite over Vulcan in tonight's first game. Tall and powerful, the double-name men slapped Eben all over Iron Mountain's gym Thursday night for a 75-43 victory. Greenland's long left forward, Johnson, scored 30 of those 75 points.

Vulcan had to scuffle for a 61-48, last quarter, victory over Dollar Bay and haul their captain, Bill Bray of the ball-playing Brays, who was on the bench with injuries, back in for the second half.

C.&N.W. DOCKS READY FOR ORE

Nos. 5 and 6 Repaired
And Waiting For Big Season Expected

With the opening of the shipping season close at hand, the C.&N.W. prepares to handle the 4 and a half million tons of red iron ore expected to be poured through the Escanaba docks, Nos. 5 and 6, this coming season.

The regular seasonal repairs to the C.&N.W.'s two docks were started on December 1 by the Bridge and Building department under Superintendent C. G. Freits and General Foreman C. H. Beck.

A crew of nearly 150 men has been busy all winter replacing worn timbers in the dock bents and repairing the ore pockets.

Until this year, Douglas fir, that tough and fibrous Western timber has been used throughout both wooden docks, except on the floors of the ore pockets, which are faced with 3" maple, whose tougher, closer grain is better able to withstand the grinding of the sharp chunks of iron ore.

This year, however, 8" oak purloins are being used as supports between the bents and pocket-bottoms. The long planks of Douglas fir used heretofore have never yet broken under the sudden crashing weight of a dumping ore car, but they have been badly ground.

Early Opening Seen

With the mines of the Menominee Range complaining that the iron ore mined this winter is ready to dribble back down the shafts from the overflowing stockpiles, the C.&N.W. has already spotted cars for loading at the Sherwood and other mines in the Stambaugh district of the Menominee Range.

Loading of iron ore at this time of the year almost certainly means an increased difficulty in unloading at the docks, for it is a bet at sure odds that the weather will be cold enough to freeze the ore solidly into the cars, and require the use of steam or hot water for thawing.

No. 6, the more modern of the two docks, will be completely ready for use by the first of April, with No. 5 not far behind.

No. 6 has 325 pockets with a capacity each of approximately 200 gross tons. The pocket shutters of No. 6 are electrically operated. The 370 pockets of No. 5 dock are manually operated.

Gen. Chiang Expects Funds From U. S. To Help Rebuild China

Nanking, March 21 (AP)—Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek was reported reliably to have told his party leaders today that he confidently expected financial aid from the United States and that it would be spent for national reconstruction and not to fight the Communists.

(Last December President Truman said a united, democratic China was of "utmost importance to world peace" and he hoped a half-billion-dollar credit to China had not been endangered. None of this money ever has been passed on to China.

(This dispatch did not state Chiang's reasons for optimism, but his rising military fortunes and the sharpening U. S. attitude towards Communism were apparent factors.)

Two French Seamen Held In $1,150,000 Heroin Smuggling

New York, March 21 (AP)—A federal grand jury today filed three indictments against two French seamen charging them with the attempted smuggling of nearly $1,150,000 worth of pure heroin earlier this week.

The men, Cesar Negro and Rene Brouhard, seamen on the French freighter St. Tropez, are in the federal house of detention in lieu of bail of $100,000 each fixed by U. S. Commissioner Isaac Platt.

U. S. Attorney John F. X. McGohey, who said the men face possible prison terms of 12 years each and fines of $5,000 each if convicted, termed the seizure of the drug "the largest in the history of this office."

Raging Fire Wipes Out Mining Town In West Virginia

Montgomery, W. Va., March 21 (AP)—Fire Chief Roger Nowvickie reported tonight that a fire he described as "one of the biggest in Fayette county history" was raging out of control at the mining community of Page.

The fire chief said the company store of the Page Mining Company would be a total loss, that the company offices would be damaged or destroyed and that the Virginian railroad building was threatened.

Nowvickie said the damage might reach $100,000 or more.

Greek Offensive Against Guerrillas Aided By Britain

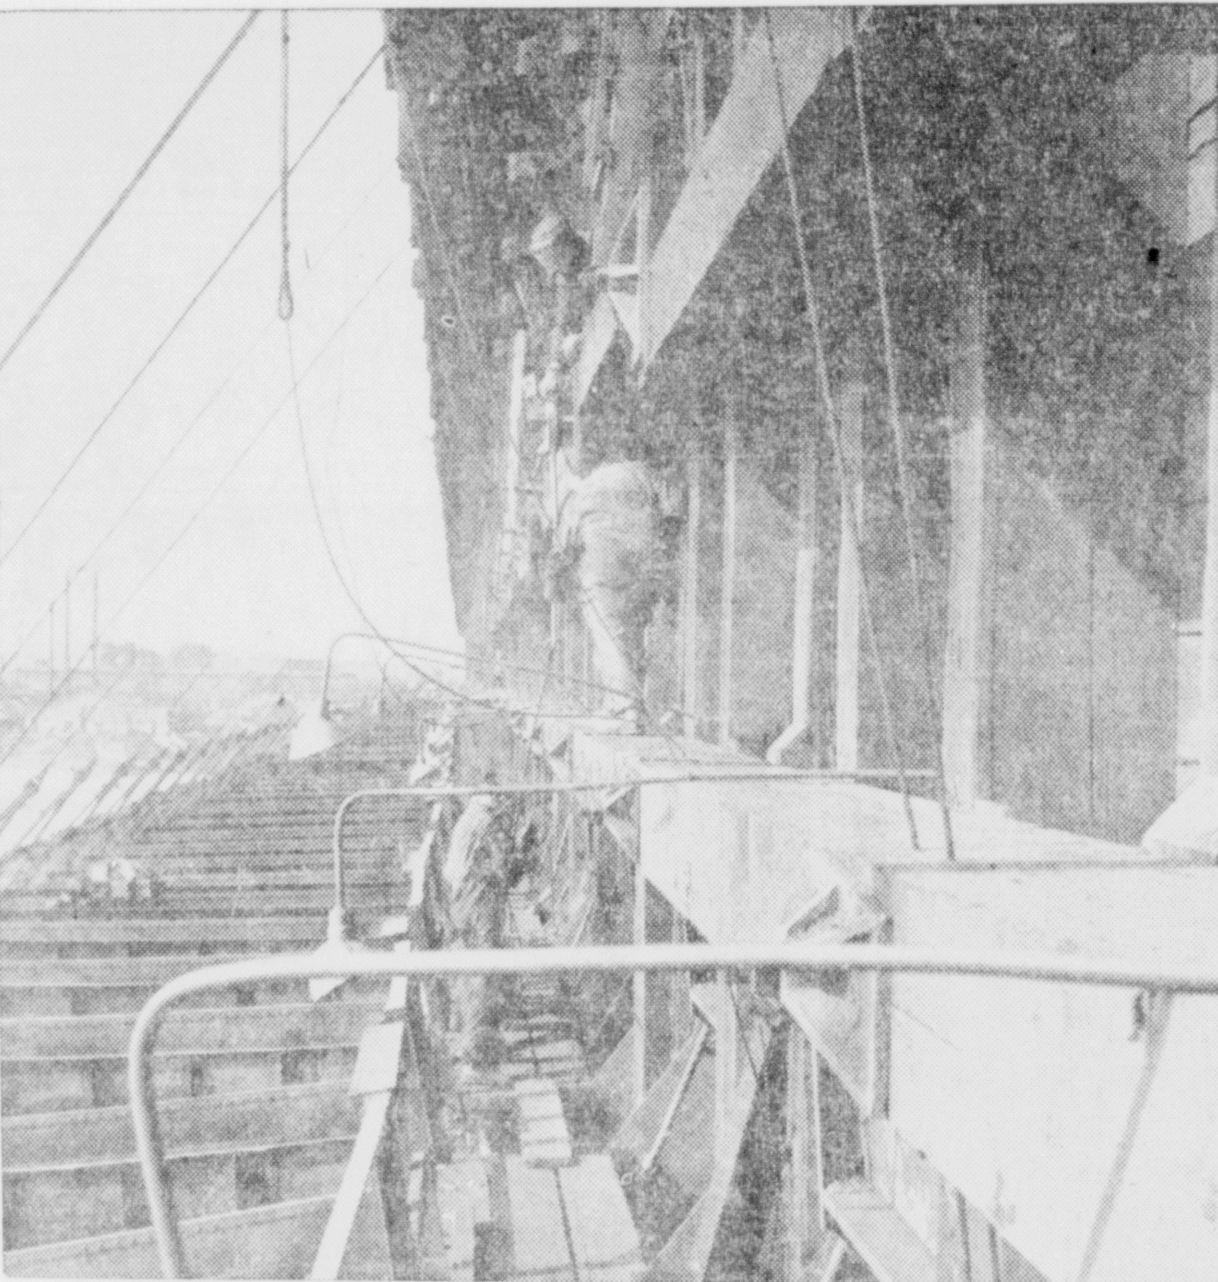

London, March 21 (AP)—Government informants declared today that Britain was helping the Greek government plan a spring offensive against guerrillas in the north and will continue limited military and economic aid until the arrival of anticipated American assistance.

The British informants said

ON TOP NO. 6 DOCK — Frank Pinozek, Arthur Walker, and Ralph Gleason (left to right) of the C.&N.W.'s Bridge-and-Building department help the burro crane lower oak purloins between the rails into the dock pocket, where during the summer the red iron ore will crash. The purloins, of eight inch thick oak, will be used as supports between bents and pocket-bottoms instead of the fir plank here-tofore used, which had a tendency to mangle and crush under the weight of the iron ore falling from the suddenly opened bellies of the cars 32 feet above. These purloins will be in place and waiting the first ore shipment. At Stambaugh, on the Menominee range, the Sherwood Mine, stock-ground piled mountain-high, is already loading cars at the shaft-mouth.

TIE IN IT TIGHT — Men of the C.&N.W.'s Bridge-and-Building department who, under Supt. C. D. Fritz and General Foreman C. H. Beck, have worked all winter on No. 5 and No. 6 ore docks repairing and replacing for the 1947 ore season, tighten a tie-rod on one of the last pockets on No. 6 dock. Replacement of a wale timber, the heavy fir timber which keeps the front of each individual pocket from bulging when filled with ore, necessitates the removal of the bolt plate, and the re-tightening of the bracing tie-rod. To the end of the five-foot ratchet wrench a rope is attached, upon which the men on the cat-walk are hauling. To the left of the cat-walk are the steel chutes which, when lowered, empty the dock pockets into the waiting ore boats. In the distance is the C.&N.W. tie plant.

Racing Car Lost By Nazis Brought To U. S. Speedway

Newark, N. J., March 21 (AP)—A 12-cylinder Mercedes racing car for which the Nazis looked in vain for seven years, and which is reputedly the fastest in the world, was at Newark airport tonight, on its way to the Indianapolis Speedway classic May 30.

The speedster, low slung and of radical design, was tested at 248.3 miles an hour at the Daimler-Benz factory in Germany, where it was built late in 1935.

The car is so low that the driver sits four inches off the track, and the drive shaft passes on his right instead of under him. The rear wheels are on a "trick torsion suspension."

The 12-cylinder speedy buggy is designed to develop 430 horsepower. It has been bought by Thomas S. Lee, president of the Mutual-Don Lee Radio Network and a group of other executives of the network whose hobby is racing cars.

The car escaped the Nazis because an anti-Nazi Czech engineer who had worked on the car spirited it into Czechoslovakia and hid it throughout the war. When Germany surrendered, he turned it over to the British.

that the decision to extend aid to Greece was based on assurances received in London that the U. S. congress was certain to approve the request of President Truman for $400,000,000 to aid both Greece and Turkey.

BALKAN STATES AID AUTHORIZED

Senators Vandenberg and Connally Back Help To Turkey and Greece

Washington, March 21 (AP)—A declaration that the proposed United States action in Greece and Turkey conforms with "the principles and purposes" of the United Nations was introduced in the Senate today by Senators Vandenberg (R-Mich.) and Connally (D-Texas).

The two leaders of the Senate foreign relations committee offered the declaration in the form of a preamble to the bill authorizing aid to Greece and Turkey to bolster them against Communism. The senators' aim is to meet criticism here and abroad that President Truman's proposal would snub the U. N.

The preamble notes that the U. N. Security Council already "has recognized the seriousness of the unsettled conditions" on the Greek frontiers. It recalls that the U. N. food and agriculture mission "recognized the necessity that Greece receive financial and economic assistance and recommended that Greece request such assistance" from the U. N. and from the United States and Britain.

It then declares that the U. N. "is not now in a position to furnish to Greece and Turkey the financial and economic assistance which is immediately required" and concludes:

"The furnishing of such assistance to Greece and Turkey by the United States will contribute to the freedom and independence of all members of the United Nations in conformity with the principles and purposes of the Charter."

Psychiatric Board To Examine Farmer In Fatal Beating

Kalamazoo, Mich., March 21 (AP)—A three-man psychiatric board has been named to examine Lester Carpenter, 26-year-old farmer charged with murder and manslaughter in connection with the fatal beating of a county ward boarding in his home.

Carpenter is accused of beating to death four-year-old David Piernan, who had lived in the Carpenter home since last September.

Named to the psychiatric board were Dr. Clarence M. Schrier, of the Kalamazoo State Hospital and Drs. William A. Scott and E. M. Williamson, Kalamazoo.

Carpenter has been held in jail without bail pending his arraignment in circuit court.

SOVIETS WELCH ON AGREEMENT

Shipments Of Materials
To German Zone Not Made By Russia

Berlin, March 21 (AP)—The Americans and British suspended indefinitely today iron and steel shipments into the Soviet zone of Germany on the grounds the Russians had failed to live up to a $21,000,000 trade agreement with the merged British-American zone.

In a formal letter to the German economic executive committee for administration at Minden, the American and British authorities ordered an embargo on export of pig iron and steel and standard iron and steel products to the Soviet zone.

The Soviet zone had become progressively delinquent in its promised deliveries during January and February, although the U. S. and British zones had shipped to the Russian zone 95 percent of their agreed commitments of steel, a joint U. S.-British announcement said.

Specifically the Russians did not make good on promised monthly deliveries of 10,700 tons of wheat and rye, 2,700 tons of oats, 50,000 tons of brown coal briquettes, 50,000 cubic meters of coal mine pit props, 500 tons of chemical pulp, 500 tons of newsprint, 27 tons of cording for tires, 200 tons of technical paper and 30 tons of buna (synthetic) rubber, the announcement said.

Cargo Complicated For American Ship Seized By Dutch

Washington, March 21 (AP)—The Netherlands government has agreed to let the American merchant ship Martin Behrman sail from Batavia with a duplicate of the cargo she previously was forced to unload, the state department said tonight.

The settlement also provides "fair compensation" to the Isbrandtsen company, the ship's operators, and reimbursement for the delay.

The Martin Behrman's cargo of sugar and other commodities from Indonesian-held territory in Java was seized by Netherlands authorities. The ship was taken under naval escort from Cheribon, Java, to Batavia and the cargo unloaded there.

The cargo included rubber, cinchona (from which quinine is derived) and sisal valued at $3,000,000. The Dutch contended that the cargo comprised property "looted" from Dutch estates now in the hands of the Indonesian republic.

Military Aid Pact For Philippines Is Signed In Manila

Manila, March 21 (AP)—A five-year military assistance agreement integrating the Philippines in American defense plans for the Western Pacific was signed this afternoon by President Manuel A. Roxas and U. S. Ambassador Paul V. McNutt.

Roxas said the agreement was retroactive to July 4, 1946, and could be renewed or terminated five years from that date at the request of the Philippines.

While the agreement makes available to the Philippines arms, munitions and technical advice, American negotiators succeeded, despite Filipino protests, in retaining a phrase enabling the United States to retain title to all equipment.

Search Abandoned For Wreck Victims In Pacific Storm

Honolulu, March 21 (AP)—The Navy today abandoned as hopeless a sea and air search for 12 men who quit the tanker Fort Dearborn when it broke in two in a storm 1,100 miles northwest of Honolulu March 12.

The cruiser Tucson and 15 destroyers completed this morning a 24-hour search over 28,800 square miles of the Pacific and were ordered to proceed to their base at San Diego.

Thirty-two other crew members who stayed aboard the severed sections of the ship were rescued.

Son Found Guilty Of Robbing Father At Point Of Gun

Detroit, March 21 (AP)—A recorder's court jury today found Horace Kendricks, 24, guilty of having robbed his own father at the point of a gun.

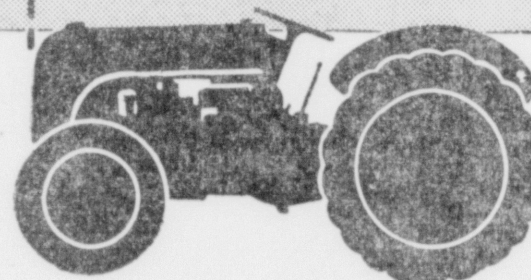

Kendricks fainted as the jury brought in the verdict. He will be sentenced March 23.

Earlier in the trial, he had fainted when his mother testified against him.

The father, Ira Kendricks, accused his son of entering his home and robbing him of cash and jewelry totaling $685.

LET US CHECK YOUR TRACTOR

From Here to Here

Our mechanics will start at the radiator cap and work right back over your tractor. When they are through, you'll know the truth. Probably a few minor adjustments, a new grease seal—a plug or two will be all you need. But, if any part needs replacement, that fact will be discovered before it's done any damage that would cost you money and time.

WE WILL CALL FOR YOUR TRACTOR

If you cannot bring your tractor in for repairs, we maintain a trailer pick-up service. We will call for your tractor, make the necessary repairs and return it to you in the shortest possible time. Tractor repairs receive "top priority" in our shop.
